

LEADING WITH PURPOSE AND PASSION™

Leading Self and Inspiring Others

In recent years, leaders have increasingly been challenged with the choice of leadership traits and competencies to lead their followers. Knowing and employing certain leadership styles of the past alone are not sufficient to inspire and lead, especially in unpredictable and turbulent times.

Leaders need to be conscious of their own behaviour as leaders and how it impacts the people we serve, in this knowledge era.

In this experiential workshop, participants will work with the Seven Cs of Leading with Purpose and Passion™. They will take away tools to be inspiring and effective leaders at their work place.
