6th INTERNATIONAL LEADERSHIP AND COACHING CONFERENCE

It is my great pleasure to welcome you to the International Leadership and Coaching Conference 2025.

Since its inception in 2012 as the International Coaching Conference Kuala Lumpur, this event has been a cornerstone for coaching professionals to learn, share, and grow. Over the years, we have witnessed the profound impact of coaching in leadership development, reinforcing the belief that coaching and leadership cannot be separated. Leadership is most effective when infused with coaching principles, and coaching gains greater impact when applied within leadership contexts. This understanding led us to rename the conference, reflecting our commitment to bridging these two essential disciplines.

This year, we continue our tradition of bringing together world-class speakers, leading coaching practitioners, and leadership experts to share their wisdom and insights. With interactive sessions, thought-provoking discussions, and invaluable networking opportunities, we hope to create an enriching experience for all participants.

I extend my sincere gratitude to our sponsors and supporters, whose contributions have made this conference possible. A special thank you to the organizing committee for their dedication and hard work in curating an outstanding program, and to our esteemed speakers for generously sharing their expertise.

I invite you to immerse yourself in this conference—engage, learn, network, and share. The true strength of our coaching and leadership community lies in the collective wisdom and experiences we bring together.

Beyond Boundaries: Shaping Leadership for the Future Anjali Nair | The HR Studio

The future of leadership is being shaped in real-time by an emerging world of new possibilities. As we shift from a shareholder-centric model to stakeholder capitalism, leadership is being redefined—one that navigates complexity while placing human values at the core of decision-making. This session will explore how leadership development must evolve to meet the demands of tomorrow by addressing two crucial questions:

- What leadership shifts must we embrace to shape the future?
- How can coaching accelerate leadership transformation, enabling organizations to thrive and adapt to the emerging world?

Anjali Nair, Founder of The HR Studio, is a certified coach with 25 years of experience as a strategic HR business partner, OD consultant, and leadership coach.

She has worked across diverse sectors, including public organizations, education, MNCs, non-profits, and start-ups. Passionate about empowering leaders, she served on the Governing Board of the International Association of Coaching and served as its Global President from 2022 to 2023. She holds an MSc from IIT-Roorkee, a PGDM in HRD, and multiple psychometric certifications. Additionally, she is a certified Independent Director and works with organizations as a strategic advisor.

Coaching Leaders to Thrive in Chaos Truett ("True") Black | True Development

In a time of rapid and disruptive change, our coaching practices must change to meet the needs of the leaders we coach. A 2015 Bain study on inspirational leadership identified centeredness as the single most inspirational trait leaders can display. Centeredness is a leadership superpower that every leader must actively develop in order to meet the demands of leading in 2025 and beyond. "Coaching Leaders to Thrive in Chaos" will define centeredness and its related competencies, lay out an evidence-based approach to coaching centeredness, and help coaches to deepen their own centeredness and coaching effectiveness.

True Black is an executive coach and facilitator with 20 years of experience in leadership development. Drawing on a corporate leadership background in sales, marketing, and operations, True specializes in coaching leaders and teams to navigate complex challenges and achieve meaningful growth. Certified in multiple coaching methodologies, True combines evidence-based practices with a deep understanding of organizational dynamics to foster resilience, influence, and leadership prowess. Fluent in English and Mandarin, True works with diverse industries globally, helping clients stretch beyond their comfort zones in a psychologically safe environment to unlock their full potential.
